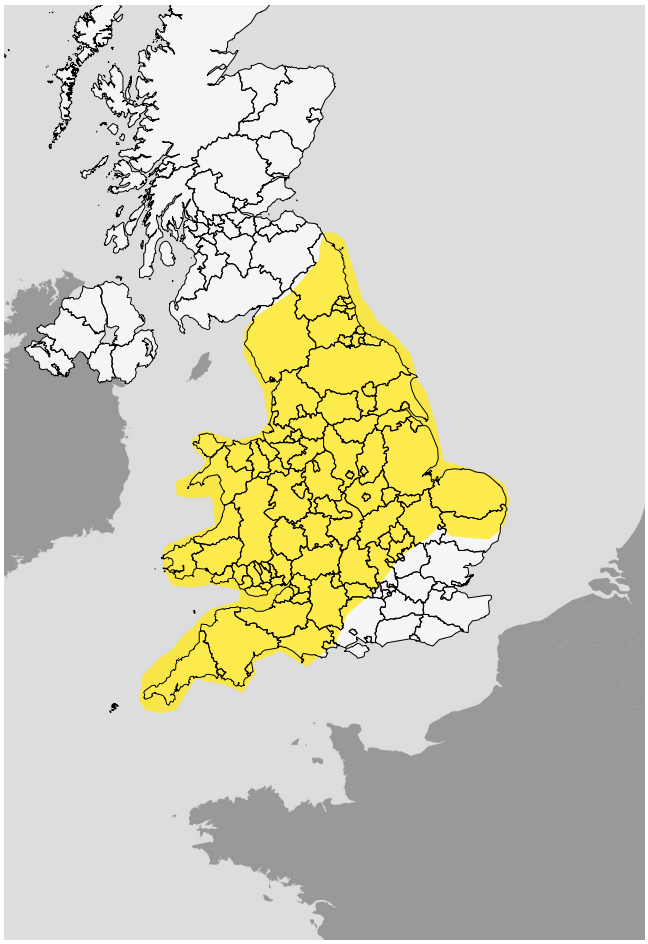
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
17:00 Thu 7 Jan 2021 and
23:59 Fri 8 Jan 2021



Icy stretches are likely to form perhaps leading to some disruption to travel with snow falling for some places.

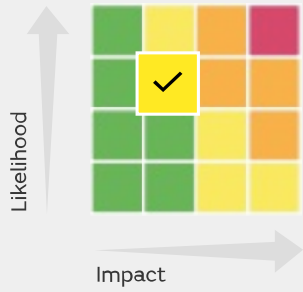
What to expect

- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths
- Some roads and railways likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services

Further details

Patchy rain, sleet and snow is expected to fall onto frozen surfaces leading to icy stretches forming. In addition, a more persistent spell of rain and hill snow is likely to move south across northern England and north Wales during Friday morning. This then gradually moving into parts of central and southwest England and southeast Wales on Friday.

Whilst ice is expected to be the most widespread hazard, snow is likely in places too. Snow is most likely to fall over the Pennines, North York Moors, the high ground of Wales and perhaps southwest England, with 2-5 cm possible here.



✓ Medium likelihood of low impacts
